

2nd August 2007.

Continued business jet growth at London Southend Airport

Business Jet operations at London Southend continue to grow ahead of the airport's expectations with business traffic up over 20% in the first six months of the year. Users are particularly attracted to Southend's proximity to London, its 24 hour opening and port of entry status and the availability of slots.

Typical of the growth at the airport is Terry Holding. Whilst domiciled in Guernsey he uses Southend as his base when in England. Terry cites the friendly staff and convenient location as the main drivers of his choice.